

Evaluating your CPD Programme

Increase the Impact of Your CPD on Staff and Pupil Learning

How do you know that your CPD offer is having the greatest possible impact on staff and pupil learning? This programme helps you use the New Standard for Teachers' Professional Development to plan, support and evaluate the effectiveness of your CPD offer for your colleagues and your pupils. In particular you will be able to access CUREE's acclaimed tools for generating naturally occurring evidence for evaluating the impact of CPD and connecting staff and pupil learning.

This series of workshops will enable you to use the extensive international evidence about effective CPD to build CPD capacity in your school / network and judge its impact.

Benefits:

- Gain key tools that can be used back in school to strengthen your CPD.
- Explore examples of practical CPD strategies.
- Engage in professional discussions to enable you to learn from colleagues in other schools and alliances.
- Develop your understanding of the 5 key elements of effective CPD through interactive activities.

Across the programme's three sessions you will;

- review current practise to identify strengths and development areas across your existing offer;
- identify ways of increasing effectiveness of your CPD offer;
- develop a manageable action plan to strengthen your CPD;
- select tools for collecting and exploring on-going evidence; and
- reflect on your progress and its impact.

This series of workshops is suitable for;

- Leaders of CPD in schools;
- Leaders/providers of CPD for groups, networks and alliances of schools;
- Heads, deputies and members of the senior leadership team; and
- facilitators of CPD.

Colleagues who successfully complete the programme can follow a fast track route to becoming a CUREE accredited Skein Associate.
